I had the pleasure of speaking to Brian the day before. I was in town and wanted some advice on my car as it was fixing to break down. He graciously helped me diagnose the problem and priced parts for me. It was nice to hear his familiar voice again and after so many years our conversation was just as easy as it was way back then. I'm so sorry for your loss. Fly high Brian....until we meet again.

I knew the DuVall family growing up in Kensington. Brian and I had a great, and always fun friendship. The trouble we got into, and all the classes we shared in school. Have lots of great memories from then my friend. Rest in Peace Brian your life, and work here will always be remembered
